INSTRUCTIONS FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT GUN RELEASE APPLICATION

Proper Use of LEGR Application Form

This form is only to be used by the owner of the firearm who is seeking to redeem his/her firearm in the custody or control of a law enforcement agency or court. In the case of a handgun, the applicant must already have a record on file in the DOJ Automated Firearms System reflecting that he or she is the lawful owner or possessor of the handgun. It is the responsibility of the court or law enforcement agency with custody or control of the firearm to verify that the applicant is the lawful owner or possessor of the firearm.

Application Submission Requirements

Individuals seeking the return of a firearm that is in the custody or control of a law enforcement agency or court must submit this application with the appropriate fees to the Department of Justice (DOJ). A firearms eligibility check will be conducted to determine whether the person is eligible to possess firearms under state and federal law. A notice of results will be sent to the applicant via U.S. Mail. Complete all requested information. Incomplete applications will be returned without processing. If reporting more than two handguns, make extra copies of this form to meet your reporting needs. Once issued, a determination notice is valid for 30 days. Be advised that any unclaimed firearm may be disposed of by an agency or court 180 days after the owner has been notified that the firearm is available for return.

Fee Submission Requirements

The processing fee for a Law Enforcement Gun Release is $20 for the first firearm (long gun or handgun), and $3 for each additional handgun being reported (e.g., 1 handgun and 1 long gun = $20; 2 handguns and 1 long gun = $23). If the agency or court determines the firearm was reported stolen pursuant to Penal Code section 12021.3(b)(3), the fees for the stolen firearm(s) will be waived. Provide documentation from the agency or court with this application to qualify for the waiver of fees. DOJ will process your application within 30 days from the date of receipt unless delayed by circumstances beyond the control of the department.

Part A: Owner Information

Enter the information requested. If you are using a military number for identification, you must submit a copy of your permanent duty station orders indicating you are stationed in California with this application. Out of state residents must submit a notarized copy of their home state Driver's License or Government-issued Identification Card.

Part B. Firearm Information

Check the box that describes the firearms you are reporting. If you are reporting only long guns, you do not need to provide any firearm description. Proceed to Part D, but note that DOJ will not be able to confirm your ownership of a long-gun via AFS records. In most cases, DOJ is not allowed by law to retain any record of long-gun ownership, purchase or transfer. Please check with the court or law enforcement agency in possession of a long-gun about how to establish that you are the legal owner of the firearm who is therefore entitled to its return.

Part C. Handgun Information

If you submit an LEGR application for a handgun not already recorded under your name in DOJ records, DOJ will process your application but will not change its ownership records of the handgun. In most cases, the name of the owner can only be changed when the firearm is transferred by a licensed firearms dealer. In an unusual case, where a dealer transfer is not required by law, firearm ownership information can be changed by submitting a Firearm Ownership Record to DOJ. A Firearm Ownership Record application can be obtained on the Bureau of Firearms website: <http://ag.ca.gov/firearms/forms/>.

A law enforcement agency or court may not release a handgun to a person unless the handgun is recorded in DOJ records in the name of the individual who seeks its return. (Pen. Code, § 12021.3, subd. (b)(2).)

For each handgun, you must provide the descriptive information requested. Most of this information can be found on the property receipt you received from the law enforcement agency or court. Please refer to your handgun owner information or the sample chart below to assist you in providing the required information:

Serial Number	May be all numeric or a combination of alpha and numeric characters and located on the frame of the handgun.
